Crews Practice Daily-What is Being Done in All Branches of Athletics-Lack of

During the past week the training of the crew candidates has steadily become more rigorous, both in general exercise and in the rowing in the tank, in line with the plans made at the opening of the season. The number of candidates for the university crew is still the same, and all are now rowing almost daily. The coaching has been done mostly by Captain Armstrong, while Cross '96, has assisted with the second crew. The training table will begin during the early part of March, about the same time as last year. The first boat last Saturday was as follows: Stroke, J. H. Simpson '97; No. 7, R. B. Treadway '96; No. 6, W. R. Cross '96; No. 5, A. W. Dater '95S.; No. 4, J.M. Longacre '96; No. 3, T. W. Miller '97; No. 2, H. C. Holcomb '95S.; bow, J. S. Wheelwright '97. The second crew was: Stroke, J. R. Juda '97; No. 7, H. G. Campbell '97; No. 6, P. H. Bailey '97; No. 5, F. Coonley '96; No. 4, D. V. Sutphin '97; No. 3, S. Patterson '97; No. 2, R. Armstrong '95S.; bow, W. P. Paret '96. Other candidates are: W. M. Beard '96, G. T. Nichols '96 S., R. L.

The candidates for the freshman crew now number twenty-two, and on different days of the past week have been coached by Captain Armstrong '95S.' Cross '96, Treadway '96, and Beard '96, who had charge last Saturday. The men are acquiring the Yale stroke very readily, and it is very probable that two or three will be given a trial for the university crew. The first crew is rowing as follows: Stroke, P. Whitney '98; No. 7, R. Hitchcock '97 S.; No. 6, G. Langford '97 S.; No. 5, A. F. Ire 1and '97 S.; No. 4, J. O. Rodgers '98; No. 3, J. T. Marsh '98; No. 2, D. F. Rogers '98; bow, J.M. Gerard '97S. The second eight is: Stroke, J. H. Johnston '97 S.; No. 7, E. H. Brewer '97 S.; No. L. B. Cadwalader '98; No. 5, L. B. Johnson '98; No. 4, W. R. Betts '98; No. 2, E. F. Tweedy '97 S.; No. 2, G. E. Cram '97 S.; bow, J. C. McLauchlan '98.

The candidates for the track athletic team were given hard work on Saturday. The sixty long distance men have divided into two squads, the one under the leadership of E. S. Brackett *97 running in the gymnasium, while those under W. Chency '96 take out-door runs. Captin Hickok directs the candidates in the weight events on the main floor, while Trainer Murphy gives those training for the sprint and hurdle events practice in starting. W. H. Wadhams '96 ran a trial mile in 4:56 last Saturday. Hereafter the baseball cage will be used by all candidates in the sprints and hurdles, who should report daily between 3 and 4 o'clock.

The freshman baseball candidates will be called out immediately after Washington's birthday. These will be divided into two squads, candidates for field positions and candidates for the battery. Captain Rustin will have charge of the former and Carter '95 of the latter. The first five or six best players will be placed with the university squad. The first game of the spring trip will probably be played with the Brooklyn League team and the next with the Balore nine. From there the schedule will be about the same as last year, playing Georgetown university, University of Virginia and University of North

An unusually small number of men have thus far presented themselves for positions on the Mott Haven team. Few of the old men have reported and nearly all the candidates are new men without any experience. It is feared that this lack of interest in the team will cripple its chances for success in the intercollegiate games.

The Yale-Princeton debate will held in this city May 1. The question has not yet been decided on. The submission of questions by the students is earnestly requested. Something pertinent and interesting is desired.

Christmas Eve-Both Men Remanded to Jail in Default of $1,500 Bonds. Robert Hamilton and Frederick Myers were arrested late yesterday afternoon on a warrant issued by United States Commissioner Wright, charged with robbing the mails. The arrests vere made by Patrolman Coonan in nsequence of the Illness of Deputy Marshal Catlin. Hamilton was found $200 to Mrs. Roselia Steinhart, on the street and Myers was arrested in his lodging house at the lower end the "Bowery." Both men were taken before United States Commissioner Wright and given a preliminary hearing. Postoffice Inspector O'Brien was present and prosecuted the cases in the interest of the overnment. Bonds were fixed at $1,500 for a further hearing next Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock and as neither of the accused was able to furnish the required amount of bonds they were remanded to jail. The prisoners were taken to the Whalley avenue hotel by Inspector O'Brien and Patrolman Coonan.

About half $437,903. an hour later the bag was found broken and its contents missing. The bag was found at the north end of the depot alongside the board fence and close to he tracks of the Northampton division

Although the postoffice officials have been working assiduously on the case, to clues were discovered until last Saturday night. At that time Fred Myers, who drives the night mail wagon, went o the barn where the horses are kept and in a shed adjoining the barn in a barrel of rubbish discovered a quanity of rubbish discovered a quantity of letters. They were unopened and bore the date of December 24. There were about twenty-five letters in all. All of the letters were unopened except two and these had been opened and subsequently sealed up.

The discovery of the letters was reported to Assistant Postmaster Rowe first year is an exception. The fear of and the latter took possession of the straining the voice by training it too letters. He immediately communicated with the general postoffice inspector at Boston and Inspector O'Brien was sent here to investigate the case. Vocal Training for Children.

[From Harper's Bazar.] A general prejudice exists against the cultivation of children's voices. Parents believe that their daughters should reach the seventeenth or eighteenth year before beginning vocal studies, and any teacher will tell you that a male pupil who has not passed his twentyearly seems universal; but it is a matter for grave consideration whether even greater risks may not be run in neglecting to train it in time, Talent for music is most invariably demonstrated during childhood. Those who have voices usually begin to sing when they are children-sometimes as soon as they can talk. The gift is considered a wholly natural development, and the the letters were subsequently mailed to little one is left to warble its songs as of harmony, with a view of subsequen plano lessons-while she is taught how to sit at her instrument, hold her hands, practice finger exercises, and, in short is thoroughly drilled year after year in all that may establish a foundation of correct method-her little sister brother with a voice is left entirely t Nature, who, alast often proves hersel most inefficient music-mistress. Most children labor from the first under con genital defects, and those who are fortunate to escape frequently absorb the defects of those with whom they are constantly brought in contact.

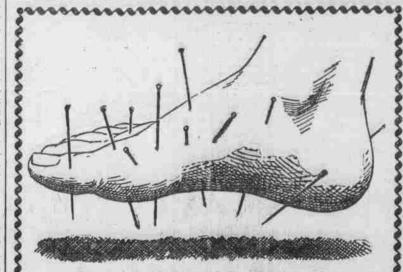

With the exception of some extraor dinary temperaments, aesthetic feeling in any marked degree is purely a ques tion of cultivation. A child with a sensitive musical ear but a healthy normal physique shrinks from a discordant note, but imitates unconsciously ugly pronunciation throaty on nasal deliv ery, and indistinct enunciation-trick which will send her later on to the throat specialist, or assuredly cause he and her teacher many a painful and weary hour, In America, where the voices are beautiful in timbre and possess reson ant power, we are peculiarly afflicted defects of utterance. Words are swallowed, jerked out, and carelessly run together in most unsingable fash ion; the national habit of leaving the lips stiff and half closed while speak ing rapidly, causes overwhelming diffl culties to the vocalist who attempt to sing in a foreign tongue. How many children hear all about them errors which they cannot fail to carry into their songs? One listens to a choir of boys and the tones are enchanting in their clear purity; but when the sole comes, one can scarce endure the mumoled sounds, which leave us to gues at the meaning of the familiar anthem The breath is taken in the middle of a word, the voice is badly placed, every possible rule is broken, and it is evi lent that no vocal chords can stand the strain placed upon them by faults which should have been uprooted before taking such a deep and injurious hold. Is it not wise to guide by a cours of valuable instruction the children who possess singing voices?
